Guidelines for People with Permanent or Temporary Disabilities

Whether a permanent disability, such as arthritis or asthma, or temporary, such as a broken leg or pregnancy, your co-workers may need assistance evacuating in the event of an emergency.

Become familiar with alternate evacuation routes in buildings you use frequently.

Consider various disaster scenarios and decide ahead of time what you would do in different emergencies.

If you have an impairment, arrange for volunteers (co-workers) to alert you and assist you in an emergency - the “buddy system”. Once accomplished, alert your Emergency Coordinator to your buddy plan.

If you have a mobility impairment and cannot exit, (1) move to a safer area, e.g.,

- Most enclosed stairwells
- An office with the door shut which is a good distance from the hazard and (2) call for assistance.

If you come in contact with a person needing support during an emergency, please assist in any way possible within the limits of your ability and desire.

Always ASK someone with a disability how you can help BEFORE attempting any rescue technique or giving assistance. Ask how he or she can best be assisted or moved, and whether there are any special considerations or items that need to come with the person. Communicate in writing if required.
